

READY FOR BIG EVENT THURSDAY

Coronation Crowds Pouring into City From all Over the World

DECORATIONS RUINED

By Rain Which Fell Last Evening
---Busy Day For Royalty
at the Palace.

London, June 20.—The flaring of bands and flashing of uniforms of 65,000 soldiers descended upon London today giving a decidedly military tinge to the preparations for the coronation. The coming of the soldiers brought the biggest crowd yet experienced and the police were unable to cope with them.

There will be no moving picture commercialism of the coronation.
This was decided today when permission was refused representatives of companies to set their machines inside of Westminster Abbey.

The old question of precedence in the coronation procession has broken out, and it is said to be greatly harassing the king. A tentative make-up of the procession was turned in but no sooner did the small army of special envoys see this than the protests began to pour in.

Regardless of the final decision of the Duke of Norfolk who has this matter in charge there is bound to be many disappointments there was at the time of the late King Edward's funeral.

John Hays Hammond, representative of the United States attended the semi-formal dinner given at Buckingham Palace last night. He said he had a "bully time."

King George spent more time in conversation with the American than any other guests.

London, June 20.—Rain began falling steadily yesterday afternoon and the flags along the streets last night hung limp, their gaudy colors blurred, while paint rain down the columns of the triumphal arches. Some of the finest decorative effects arranged for the coronation celebration stand a fair chance of being ruined. The spectacular aspect of London is considerably damaged, but the town has a festive appearance, regardless of the unkindness of the weather.

Many illuminations blazed last night all the way from the West End clubs to the heart of the financial district, where the stock exchange and the Bank of England were bright with electric lights. Throngs of people splashed cheerfully through the muddy streets enjoying the patriotic show.

Buckingham Palace again today is the center of popular interest and traffic is congested throughout a wide area. Central London will see little rest day or night until the crowning is over. Well into the small hours this morning there was a constant parade of belated sightseers watching curiously the thousands of workmen engaged in completing the decorations, of which much still remains to be done and must be done at night, owing to the difficulty in obtaining sufficient men. The stands are being hurriedly painted and hung with red cloth and garlands are strung across the streets, while finishing touches are being put on other decorations.

The king and queen had a busy day.
In addition to receiving a large number of visiting royalties at the palace, they attended a rehearsal ceremony at the Abbey and last evening dined the foreign representatives at Buckingham palace.

The queen received deputations from various parts of the empire, who presented gifts and addresses.
While the dinner was a quiet affair,
compared with the grand state dinner this evening, which will be the largest and most pretentious function of the sort ever held in England, it would nevertheless be regarded as a great event.
All the visiting princes and princesses and lesser members of royal families, with the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and John Hays Hammond, the personal representative of the president of the United States, were present.

The fleet at Spithead is now practically in full force for the review.
Most of the foreign vessels arrived yesterday and took up their stations.
Portsmouth, South Sea, Ryde and adjacent seaside places are filled with visitors and there is a constant firing of salutes. Each of the foreign vessels on entering the harbor fired a salute of 21 guns in honor of the nation and another of 17 guns in honor of the commander-in-chief.

After the royal dinner at the palace
many of the guests drove to Stafford House, which overlooks the Hall, where the Duchess of Sutherland gave a ball. This was the most magnificent

CONGRATULATIONS CABLED FROM RULERS AND ROYALTY OF EUROPE.

Washington, June 20.—Congratulatory messages, delivered either through the ambassadors or by cable dispatch, arrived at the White House from nearly every country in the world. Ambassador Bryce, of Great Britain, called just a short while after Mr. Falconio, who bore a message from the pope, to deliver the congratulations of King George and Queen Mary of England.

Other congratulations were received from Kaiser Wilhelm, the King and Queen of Sweden, President Arosemena of Panama and the King and Queen of Denmark and King
Alfonso of Spain. President Fallieres of France sent the following:

"At the time your excellency is celebrating his silver wedding I beg of you kindly to present my respectful congratulations to Mrs. Taft and to accept my most cordial wishes for your happiness. I avail myself of this favorable circumstance to renew to your excellency my feeling of constant friendship with all the more pleasure because you have recently been so kind as to enhance by your presence the brilliancy of several Franco-American commemorations."

Three messages came from Japan—one from Emperor Mutsuhito, a second from Prince Katsura and a third from Marquis Kamura. The Emperor said:

"On the auspicious occasion of your excellency's silver wedding I beg to express my sincere congratulations as well as my best wishes for your continued good health and well-being."

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy wired:

"Please accept on this auspicious day my most heartfelt congratulations and best wishes for the happiness and prosperity of your family."

From King Alfonso of Spain came the following: "My heartfelt wishes to you and to Mrs.
Taft on your silver wedding."
The Emperor of China sent this message: "We beg to offer to your excellency our congratulations on the occasion of your silver wedding, with best wishes for your personal happiness and welfare and for the prosperity of the American people."

TAFTS ARE HONORED BY THOUSANDS

Who Thronged White House in Attendance
at Silver Wedding

BRILLIANT COSTUMES

Filled the Rooms and Decorations Furnished Scene of Splendor.

Washington, D. C., June 20.—President Taft was asked last evening for some expression of sentiment for the American people on the occasion of his silver wedding.

He was standing in the midst of his guests, his face aglow with pleasure. Taking Mrs. Taft's hand in his the president replied with deep feeling:

"Mrs. Taft and I are deeply grateful for all the many expressions of good will that have come on us."

Standing beneath one of the great oaks of the White House lawn, President and Mrs. Taft received over four thousand guests who had been invited to assist them in celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

It was a social event which eclipsed in brilliancy any in recent years and wrote a new page in the remarkable social history of the executive mansion. It was the largest company ever entertained at the White House.
The setting for the reception on the lawn was most picturesque. It brought to a close a brilliant social season.

International interest was given to the function by the congratulations of the rulers of practically all the important empires of the world.
The grounds of the White House were transformed into fairyland for the evening. Thousands of electric lights flashed from the trees and shrubbery, search lights from surrounding government buildings illuminated the grounds and colored lights made a picture of the playing fountain.

Outside the White House gates thousands of people gathered to gain a glimpse of the beautiful and historic scene. Lines of automobiles and carriages filled the surrounding streets. Police were thrown about the white house and its grounds and every precaution was taken to make the occasion a grand success.

There was wonderment at the slow progress of the line of people past the president until it was found that he was making it charmingly informal in many instances by greeting his friends with a word and replying in kind to their congratulations.

When Mrs. Taft found it necessary to rest for a little while her place was taken by Miss Helen Taft. Inside the white house there was provision for those who sought change from the brilliant scene outside. Baskets of flowers filled the rooms and there was dancing in the east room.
The presents were not displayed.

The cards said that the reception would begin at 9 o'clock, and promptly on the hour to the strains of the wedding march the president and Mrs. Taft came slowly down the staircase of the white house, preceded by the six presidential aides and followed by the cabinet. Out through the Red Room to the rear portico of the mansion down the broad steps and out onto the lawn the processions marched while hundreds of guests already in the grounds watched their progress. They took their stand beneath two trees, just about the center of the lawn, whose branches were joined by an electric sign flashing
"1886-1911."

From the top of the treasury building a monster search light played upon a new American flag upon the summit of the mansion. Over the rear portico another flag in red, white and blue incandescent lights shimmered and waved. The fountain in the center of the grounds played upon by another search light, sprinkled forth all hues of the rainbow.
The Washington monument a thousand feet to the south, brought into relief by the thousands of lights, stood out sharply against the sky,
dark blue, with here and there a star striving successfully against the light of man.

The White house lawn, clipped and shaved to the very quick, made a carpet of soft dark green over which walked lightly the gaily clad women, the men in black or in the white of the military service. Down near the fountain the Marine band in scarlet coats played with vigor, and in the white house itself the Engineer Band vied with them.

The arrangements for the reception
were made with perfect accuracy.
The members of the house and Senate the cabinet officers, Diplomatic officers and other distinguished per-

MRS. NATHAN BRYAN, ONE OF FLORIDA'S BEAUTIFUL WOMEN, WIFE OF NEW SENATOR

Mrs. Nathan Bryan, wife of the new United States Senator from Florida, is noted as one of the beautiful women of her state. She will be an addition to the Senatorial society circle at Washington when she goes there with her husband.

J. V. M'MILLAN DECLINES POSITION OF SUPERINTENDENT OF NEWARK PUBLIC SCHOOLS

J. V. McMillan of Marietta, who was elected as superintendent of the Newark schools, declined to accept the position in a telegram sent last night to D. M. Keller, clerk of the Board of Education.

The declination was neither unexpected, nor was it looked for, as Mr.

McMillan said that he could not make up his mind upon the question, while he was here last Saturday.

The Board of Education will meet this evening in regular session to elect a superintendent, as the office is now vacant.

WILL CARRY CASES TO THE SUPREME COURT

Columbus, June 20.—The supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the Alken $1,000 liquor tax in the three test cases brought by forty saloon keepers of Newark against C. L. V. Holtz, treasurer of Licking county. The decision means that all saloonists will have to pay the tax.

Attorney Roderic Jones of the firm of Jones & Jones, informs the Advocate that he will take immediate steps to appeal the case from this decision to the United States supreme court at Washington. This will doubtless postpone any collection of the Alken tax in these cases until the final hearing before the United States supreme court.

WILL NOT DRIVE CAR ON SUNDAY

Flint, Mich., June 20.—Bob Burman, who holds the record of having ridden a mile faster than any other human being, will never drive a car again on Sunday at the request of his mother.
Burman cancelled his engagement here
on June 25 for that reason.

TO PROTECT NIAGARA FALLS

Washington, June 20.—The Bruston resolution extending for two years the existing law protecting Niagara Falls from the diversion of the water was adopted by the senate this afternoon. The resolution now goes to the house.

HELPERS ARE WANTED.

Workers are needed everywhere—high grade, skilled,
competent workers—those who are proficient in various lines of endeavor and who are prepared with the necessary experience to fill positions of trust and confidence.

Employers seeking help for offices and factories, those who need the services of trained salesmen, and other competent workers, are constantly in touch with the want columns, searching for high grade helpers in various capacities.

If you are a worker and want to better your position, send a Want Ad stating your qualifications; you should find advancement easily within your reach.

HUNDREDS OF LIVES LOST IN TYPHOON TODAY

Tokio, Japan, June 20.—Hundreds of lives have been lost in a typhoon which devastated the entire coast of Japan today. Thousands of houses were demolished and 123 fishermen are known to have been drowned at one small port.

WINS DAMAGE SUIT.

Columbus, June 20.—Mary E. Apple, administratrix of the estate of her husband, John D. Apple, won out in her appeal from the common pleas court and the circuit court which had knocked out her suit for $10,000 damages against the Portsmouth Street Railway company for the death of her husband.
The lower courts are both reversed and the case remanded for trial.

STRIKE SITUATION BECOMING SERIOUS

New York, June 20.—Police reserves were massed on the river front today in anticipation of rioting.
The action of the rank and file of the cooks, marine firemen, stewards and seamen's unions in adopting resolutions which may result in a general strike is the cause of this action by the police. Many steamship companies have been considering the demands of the men since last Friday and answers are expected today. If they are unfavorable it is thought all the men will be ordered out.

Many of the steamship lines have strike breakers on hand and it is believed that rioting will be plentiful.
To add to the seriousness of the situation, the longshoremen are dissatisfied and threaten to refuse to handle freight on ships where strike breakers are employed.

COUNTY BETTER

With Saloons Than Under Prohibition, Says Dry Worker.

Birmingham, Ala., June 20.—Declaring the present condition intolerable and farcical, and setting forth vividly his reason for no longer advocating the cause of prohibition, Jones G. Moore, who has been selected as chairman of the local option committee, issued his first statement yesterday. He gives facts and figures to prove why Jefferson county would be better off under a system of high-licensed, well-regulated saloons than she is now under a prohibition that does not prohibit.

PRISONER IN TEMPLE AT CHICAGO

Prosecution Claims They Have a Clear Case Against See

SUFFICIENT TESTIMONY

Of Spectators of Sights Witnessed to Send See to Joliet Prison.

Chicago, June 20.—Believing they already have made out a case against Evelyn Arthur See, revealer of the cult of the absolute life and preceptor of the race of perfect mothers, the state's attorneys declared today they would prove that Mildred Bridges, toward whose delinquency See is charged with contributing, was really a prisoner in the "Temple of the Junior Commonwealth" during the time she was supposed by her father to be suffering from scarlet fever. This is a feature in the life of the cult that had not been hinted before.

The State will not attempt to prove this charge until it is definitely shown that the girl will cling to See with a blind devotion she has manifested thus far. If she agrees to become her father's heir and turn against See, the state will withhold this information.
The state's attorneys declare the testimony late yesterday of Miss Clara Jenny who lived in an apartment directly across from the "temple" will be sufficient to send the revealer to Joliet. "During her time in her handkerchief the girl whispered to the jury a story of sights she had witnessed from her window, which the state declares bears out its assertion that See's relations with both Mona Rees and Mildred Bridges were highly immoral.

Despite this testimony, both Mona Rees and Mildred Bridges are clinging with great loyalty to See as their teacher and protector.
"This poor girl has disorted things
she saw," declared Mona Rees, in tones of great pity for the "misguided child" as she dubbed Miss Jenny. "Our lives with Evelyn were as pure as it was possible for them to have been."

"Probably what the little Jenny girl saw were some of the strange but perfect legitimate rites of the religion, in which we three indulged."

These "rites" as described by Miss Jenny, were of a nature, the state alleges, that make it necessary for a jury to convict.

FOUR JURORS SECURED IN DEIGEL CASE

Columbus, June 20.—Only four tentative jurors had been accepted at noon today in the trial of Rodney J. Deigel, charged with aiding Senator R. L. Andrews in soliciting a bribe. Judge Kinkead instructed the jurors not to read any newspaper accounts of the case. The state does not expect to get into the testimony in the case before morning, but it is thought the jury will be completed today. None of Deigel's relatives were in court today but both Senator Andrews and Representative George B. Nye were interested spectators.

The now famous dictograph is expected to play an important part in the trial.
R. R. Walcott, official court stenographer, who operated the machine which was hidden in the room where the alleged bribe offering took place, will explain the intricate workings of the machine to the jury. It is expected that the defense will spend much of its time disputing this testimony.
It is also thought that the defense will concentrate an attack on the character of Detective Harrison, who is to be the star witness for the state.

DISORDER IN MEXICAN STATES

Mexico City, June 20.—Brief calm which followed Madero's arrival here has given way to violent disorders in almost every state. Reports from all sections of the country say there is great activity among the natives. And there are several cases where officials have acted in direct defiance of Madero's orders.
Federal forces are being held ready in their barracks by order of the provisional government to start at a moment's notice to Cuernavaca, where it is said all semblance of law and order has vanished.

FORM CLUBS TO FIGHT SNAKES

Newton, N. J., June 20.—Northern
New Jersey is over run with rattlesnakes and they have become such a nuisance that clubs have been formed to fight the reptiles. Already many thousands snakes have been killed by these organizations, which will keep up their work until all have been exterminated.

FIRST BONES FOUND UNDER THE MAINE

Havana, June 20.—The first human parts to be recovered from the wreck of the American battleship Maine were discovered when workmen removing mud and debris from the spar deck just forward of the aft superstructure, discovered the blackened and coral encrusted bones of a left forearm and right foot.

The bones were taken in charge by an undertaker and placed in a receptacle aboard the collier Leonidas.

STEAMER OLYMPIC ARRIVED TODAY

New York, June 21.—The world's largest and finest steamer, the new triple screw S. S. Olympic, steamed proudly up the Ambrose channel today and is now moored at the Chelsea pier to which a hundred foot extension was recently made so that this great vessel, 822 1-2 feet long,
might be amply protected.

Throughout the voyage the Olympic's giant engines, the largest afloat worked smoothly and the 800 cabin passengers landed well pleased.

The Olympic, 45,324 tons register, exceeds by 13,000 tons in the world,
in length any steamer, in the world.
A crew of 860 men is required to operate her, and 3,000 passengers can be carried.

CONG. COX'S WIFE AFTER A DIVORCE

Cleveland, O., June 20.—It today developed that Mrs. Mary L. Cox, wife of Congressman Jas. M. Cox, of Dayton, has had a divorce suit pending against her husband here for the past month. The matter was kept a complete secret until a motion was filed to advance the case for immediate hearing. Congressman Cox and his wife have been separated nearly two years. They have three children. Non-support and cruelty are charged in the petition.

POSITION

Of Bullets in Wall Causes Magistrate
to Reduce Bond of Show Girls Who Shot W. E. D. Stokes.

New York, June 20.—Because three bullets imbedded in the wall of the apartments of Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham lie close to the floor a magistrate decided today that the young women probably had not intended to kill W. E. D. Stokes when they shot him several weeks ago and ordered the reduction of from $10,000 to $5,000 in their bail. June 22 was set for the preliminary hearing.

FRAUDS

AMOUNTING TO SEVERAL MIL-LION DOLLARS DISCOVERED
BY SECRET AGENTS.

Government Swindled in Importation of Cutlery By Peculiar Construction of Schedule in Tariff.

Washington, June 20.—Frauds amounting to several millions of dollars in duties on importations of cutlery during the last few years have been discovered by secret agents of the customs service, who, under the direction of Chief Wilkie, have been working quietly in this country, and in the Solingen district of Germany, whence most of the imports come to the United States.

Secretary of the Treasury Mac-Veigh began the investigation several months ago, but as it is not complete it was not said what action might be taken to recover the duties of which it is alleged, the government has been defrauded. Neither is it known if there will be criminal prosecutions.
Customs authorities say that the peculiar construction of the entire schedule of the tariff has given opportunity for immense frauds on a comparatively small undervaluations.
A seizure of cutlery made in New York on Saturday illustrates that fact. On 13 cases of cutlery, entered as having a valuation of $10,248, an undervaluation of only $868 was found,
but on that one seizure the government has been defrauded of $3,397 in duties. The duty on cutlery is very high.

WHITNEY LEAVES TRAIL OF CRIME

Salt Lake, Utah, June 20.—Without a man dead and four wounded a bandit going under the name of Harry Whitney, who with one pal on Saturday killed an Oregon Short line conductor at High Bridge, Idaho, continues to terrorize Eastern Idaho. A dozen posses are trailing the man, but are no nearer to him than they were three days ago. When Whitney started his trail of crime last Saturday he had an accomplice, but is now thought he has killed the man so as not to be hampered with him.

FARMS FURNISH BEST COOKS.

New York, June 20.—After trying nearly 100 varieties of farmhouse food while inspecting summer boarding houses for working girls, Miss Ada L. Dauman has officially reported to the National Civic Federation that farmers' wives are the best cooks in the world and decidedly better housekeepers in every way than city women.

Miss Dauman visited the farm regions of New Jersey, Connecticut,
New York and the New England States.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Marion, 10; Lancaster, 2.
Portsmouth, 8; Hamilton, 4.
Springfield, 1; Chillicothe, 9.
Newark, 1; Lima, 2.

Newark opened their nine-game at home series Monday afternoon by taking over the Lima aggregation in a nicely played game. It was simply a case of where the Molders did four batting at the right time, while their pitcher Grover Goshorn, who worked three innings at Portsmouth Sunday, tightened up nicely when the Lima players got on the paths.

It was a game which was devoid of any sensational holding, yet there were times when the Molders were compelled to step some to make the plays they started.

The fans saw some pretty hitting too. Grover Goshorn and Bert Blue got the two prize clouts of the afternoon, both being tagged for three bags.

In Grover's case, he fell after turning first and could only reach second. His hit went to the fence in right center and Bert Blue's cast to deep center, to the east of the Bill Durham sign. Blue's bad leg bothered him and prevented him from going to third on the hit.

Baggan in center and Plummer in right had a difficult chance apiece. Plummer's was on a long fly in the ninth, which if he had missed it, would have resulted in a tied score at least and possibly the loss of the game. He poled it down though and fell heavily in the effort, but held the ball high in the air to show that he had been successful.

Goshorn, who has always been a good pitcher, drove out three lead batters out of four efforts. Two of the hits counted in the run getting. Once he drove a run across and once his hit started a rally which resulted in a score for himself.

Lima showed that they were in the game until the last when they annexed three hits in the ninth, assisted by some slow work by the Molders' infield.

With one out and two strikes on Friend, he poled one neatly to center. Young bunted and the ball rolled out of the foul line and Goshorn allowed it to roll instead of picking it up. The ball hit a pebble and rolled into fair territory, and was scored a safe hit. Munn fielded Long's bunt, but it left first unprotected and these two plays, which should not have been, gave Lima their run in the ninth.

Newark scored in the third when Newham drew a pass and was sacrificed by Plummer with a pretty bunt. Jevier singled and took second on the throw to home plate. Blue drove the ball to deep center and scored Geyer.

In the sixth Ludolph singled and was sacrificed to second by Munn. He took third on Prysko's out. Sandherr to second and scored when Goshorn drove a screamer down the left foul line.

In the eighth with two out, Goshorn singled to center and two more hits in succession by Baggan and Newham with the catcher's error allowed Goshorn to score.

Lima scored in the fifth when Sandherr singled and got Patterson to do the heavy work on the paths for him. Friend tanned and Young went out. Prysko to Munn. Long drove a clean single to center and Patterson came out home.

Twice other runs came in the ninth on a clean single and two scratches as detailed, coupled with Blue's peg to third which was lost in the scramble at the bag. The score:

O'DAY SLUGS CONNELL AND PAYS $25 FINE

Chillicothe, O., June 20.—Manager O'Day of the Springfield team was arrested this morning on a charge of assaulting one infielder Connell, one of his players, in the dining room of the Warner house. He paid a fine of $25 for his part in the trouble. An altercation ensued between the two men over a trivial matter and the assault followed.

WATCHED RECRUITS FROM ZANESVILLE.

Manager W. O. Littick of the Zanesville Times Recorder, was a visitor at Wehrle Park Monday and saw the Molders in action against the Lima bunch, witnessing the game from the press box. Mr. Littick came up from Zanesville to see the recruits from his club there in action here. Prysko, Baggan, Rudolph and Herold were all secured from the Zanesville club and those who were in action yesterday pleased the Zanesville man very much. Mr. Littick's son recently returned from college, is now handling sports on the T-R.

PIRATE FOLLOWERS WANT CHANGE MADE.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 20.—It became known yesterday that the Pittsburg club has protested the game won by Boston 8 to 7 in this city last Thursday, on the grounds that decision rendered by the field umpire was very much. Mr. Littick's son recently returned from college, is now handling sports on the T-R.

SHORT SPORT

On the level, it doesn't look fair for a team to protest a game won by the Boston Nationals, as Pittsburg has done.

The Athletics scored three runs off Walter Johnson in one inning without getting the ball outside the diamond or making a hit. Mouldy misplays did the damage.

With seven games in a row against Boston and Brooklyn, while the Cubs are clashing with Pittsburgh, New York hopes to regain first place this week.

Washington has made an offer to Lester Long, the star pitcher of the Lafayette college team. Just to make it appear that their family is not divided that four cornered trade that Chicago put over on Manager Tenney. If every team in the American league had a Joe Wood to pitch, the New York Highlanders would probably be in tail place.

The Red Sox are experimenting with a Washington college first baseman named Baker. He looks the part.

From the way Carey is playing the outfield for Pittsburg the passing of Tommy Leach will not be a hard blow.

Midger Owne Rush's fielding at short stop did more to hold the White Sox in check than did all the rest of the team.

RENEWING COMPLEXIONS BY ABSORPTION.

If your complexion is marred with blotches, pimples, moth patches or freckles, its useless to putter with powders and paints, lotions, creams and things, in an effort to get rid of the trouble. Unless you have some ability as an artist you'll mar your appearance still more.

The new and rational way is to take off the complexion itself with all its offensive marks. Just get an ounce of pure mercurized wax at the drugists and use it at night same as cold cream. Remove next morning with water and soap, following with dash of cold water. The mercurized wax absorbs the half dead skin in flaky particles, so gradually no one guesses you're treating your face unless it be by the result, which is truly wonderful. There's nothing like it for restoring a natural, healthy and beautiful complexion.—Aunt Sally.

NINE HOUR LAW. The nine hour work day law which Governor Harmon signed several days ago, will soon go into effect. The law pertains only to women employed in workshops or other closely confined places, and does not apply to saleswomen in the stores, stenographers and women similarly employed. The girls in the millinery, dress making and tailoring shops, however, are directly affected by the new law. The women can be employed not more than nine hours in each 24.

CLOTHING INSURANCE FOR WOMEN. Sounds rather sensational, but let us explain. Washable clothing is composed of linen, cotton and wool, and these fabrics are torn to pieces by the alkalies and caustics which are the main component part of most of the yellow rosin soaps on the market. If you use a true, honest soap which possesses the right cleansing and antiseptic properties, you insure the life of the fabric. Hewitt's Easy Task soap, made from pure tallow, coconut oil and borax, contains no destructive or unpleasant factor. It is a pure, white soap, most effective in its cleansing qualities. Five cents a cake.

The Modern Wash-day

Time was when The Wash was a weekly nightmare, wash-day dinner a by-word. The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove has changed all that. Once the wash-boiler is on the stove, it leaves you free to attend to the dinner or any other work.

You can move a New Perfection where you please and light it in a moment. It requires no attention after that. A single gallon of oil lasts all three burners seven hours or more. No coal or wood to carry; no fire to feed; no soot nor ashes. It keeps a kitchen or laundry cool and clean. It cooks to perfection, with the least trouble and expense. 4

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. # Daddy's Bedtime Story

Willie's Bright
Story — Idea Saved His Employer $40

YOU have been showing such remarkable smartness in your business deals, Jack," said daddy one evening, "especially in the bargain with old Dinah about the cookies, that I shall have to tell you about a little office boy whose brain saved his employer about $40 in stamps and who received a proper reward."

"That sounds fine, daddy," said Jack. "Please tell us every word about it, won't you?"

"Well," began daddy, "this boy, whose name is Will, is employed by a real estate firm in a big city, and this firm sends out advertisements by the thousands, mainly to small towns where the folks go to the postoffice to get their mail."

"Will had just started in on a big pile of envelopes and of two cent stamps when the bright idea struck him. He went at once to his employer and said: 'May I speak to you a few moments, Mr. Smith? I think I can save you some money.'"

"That's the boy," said Mr. Smith. "Come right in and tell me about it."

"I notice that 218 of these letters go to Glenaside," said Will. "With a two cent stamp on each that costs $4.36. Now, if I put on one cent stamps that would be $2.18, and I could take the bundle out on the trolley and mail them there and get back in two hours at a cost of 20 cents."

"How much would that save?" asked daddy quickly.

"One dollar and ninety-eight cents," answered Jack and Evelyn almost in a breath.

"Good," said daddy. "There's nothing the matter with the way your teacher keeps you up in mental arithmetic."

"Well, Mr. Smith saw the sense of the thing at once and sent Willie away not only to Glenaside, but to a dozen other towns and made a saving in a week of nearly $40."

"So on Saturday Will got a whole day off, two tickets to the ball game and a dollar bill to spend."

"I wonder if he took his sister," remarked Evelyn.

"I'm sure he did," said daddy. "Didn't I tell you he reminded me of Jack?"

"Well, didn't Will get promoted?" asked Jack.

"My goodness," said daddy, "won't you ever stop asking questions? I really don't know, but I'm sure he'd have been promoted if he had been in my office."

The Prince of Wales laid the foundation stone of Tower bridge across the Thames.

Yesterday's Advocate for "two men to distribute cards" telephoned this office early today saying "Please take my ad out, I'm swamped with applications. The response to my little four line classified ad certainly testifies to the circulation of the Advocate and to the pulling power of advertising in your paper."

Resigns Position.
Mr. Frank Goff, conductor on the Interurban lines of the Ohio Electric railway has resigned his position and will leave in a short time for Oregon, where he expects to locate permanently.

THE GIRL QUESTION.
The girl who works for you has physical senses as delicate as your own. When her hands are red, cracked and sore they pain her as much as yours would pain you. If you want to keep her, you should make the kitchen and its work as pleasant as possible.

Try a cake of Hewitt's Easy Task soap. It's as good for the dishes as it is for the hands, and won't hurt the hands. Costs five cents and will encourage the girl more than a dollar added to her wages.

A POPULAR ERROR

THAT RHEUMATISM IS DUE TO COLD, WET WEATHER.

The Trouble is Rooted in the Blood and Must Be Fought There, Not on the Surface.

Many people believe that the twinges and tortures of rheumatism are due to cold, damp, or wet weather, and treat themselves by rubbing with liniments. This is a serious mistake, and one which allows the disease to progress to such an extent that it is often difficult to get it out of the system. Rheumatism is a disease of the blood and can be cured only by driving the rheumatic poison out of the blood. There is no medicine that will do this so quickly and surely as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They actually make the new, rich, red blood, which drives out the poison, builds up the system, and makes the sufferer well and strong.

Miss Mary L. Stanley, whose address is R. F. D. No. 4, Batavia, N. Y., tried various treatments for rheumatic twinges but without relief until she took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I suffered from inflammatory rheumatism for over a year and when it first came on I paid but little attention to it, as I thought the occasional numb feeling was due to my knitting so much. In the winter I took cold and the pains became rapidly worse. They were on my arms and shoulders and were so bad at night that I could neither sleep nor rest. Whenever I tried to raise my arm it hurt so that I could not move it far from my body and my hand would tremble as though I had palsy. My fingers were so swollen and stiff at the joints that I could not close them. Our doctor treated me with blisters on the shoulders, but I felt no relief and gave him up for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Very soon I felt better and after taking a few boxes was entirely cured. Since that time I have never had the slightest return of the rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are also highly recommended for all other ailments of the grip, stomach trouble and all general run-down conditions because of their power to make new, rich blood.

If you are interested in the remedy that cured Miss Stanley, write today for a copy of the new edition of our book on "Diseases of the Blood." It contains information that may save you money and suffering. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

HEALTHY MOTHERS

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores.

Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

Delicate Generosity.
One of the many stories of Grant which grip the hearts and minds of the people was once told by General Simon B. Buckner at a meeting of Confederate veterans.

"Grant and I were chums at West Point," began General Buckner. "I had befriended him at one time, and it can justly be said of him that he never forgot a kindness. After the Union victories at Henry and Donelson I met Grant on the boat at the surrender, and he followed me when I went to headquarters. He left the officers of his own army and followed me with that modest manner peculiar to him into the shadow and there tendered me his purse—pressed it into my hand without a word.

"It seemed to me," concluded General Buckner, "that in the marvelous modesty of his nature he was afraid the light would witness that act of generosity and sought to hide it from the world, almost from his own soul."

Music of "The Lost Chord."
The music of "The Lost Chord" was composed under most touching conditions. Arthur Sullivan was watching by the bed of his dying brother, Frederick. One night shortly before death the invalid sank into a peaceful slumber. Arthur, who attended his brother day and night, took the opportunity to read, and it happened that his eyes fell on Adelaine Anne Procter's poem, "The Lost Chord." The verses impressed him greatly, and music appropriate to them suggested itself to his mind. Taking a sheet of music paper, he began to write, and so absorbed was he in his task that he sat hour after hour working at it until the song was completed. Probably the acute emotional conditions under which the music was composed account largely for the power to touch the emotions which undoubtedly "The Lost Chord" possesses.—George Leon Varney in National Magazine.

A Go as You Please Railway.
The Quest-Eint railway is a standing joke in Paris on account of its slipshod ways. They tell there this story of an incident which happened when M. Briand was premier.

A Russian prince was in Brittany and wanted to come up to Paris. He telegraphed to his secretary: "Shall arrive Invalides tomorrow 8 a. m. Don't want accident to train. See Briand about it." The secretary called on the prime minister, who was most affable. "It is not the general custom on the Quest-Eint to avoid accidents," he said, "but I will ask the director to see what can be done." The express arrived safely without the smallest mishap, but six hours and a half late, during all which time the Russian prince's secretary had been waiting on the platform.

Some people never go ahead because they wait too long to make sure they are right.

CASE AGAINST GEORGE NORRIS WAS DISMISSED

Prosecuting Witness Fails to Appear—Friends Vouch For Excellent Record of Columbus Man.

The charge against George Norris of the Columbus Detective department, was dismissed by Judge Seward Tuesday morning because of the failure of the prosecuting witness to appear at the hour set for trial.

J. P. Harrigan, the prosecuting witness, who filed the affidavit against Norris, has not been seen in the city for several days, since in fact an affidavit of lunacy was filed against him. With Mr. Norris, when he appeared for trial was Captain O. H. Dyer of the secret service department of Columbus, and Will D. Harris, manager of Buckeye Lake Park, and numerous other witnesses who were to have testified in behalf of Mr. Norris.

Regarding the charge, Mr. Harris stated to the Advocate that it was ridiculous in the extreme as every minute of Norris' time could be accounted for during the time he is alleged to have sold the liquor.

At the hour Harrigan says the sale took place, Norris was with Mr. Harris and had been for several hours and spent most of the evening with him. Mr. Norris stated that the report which was given considerable publicity that he had trouble with Harrigan and engaged in a fight with him was false. He said that it was through his efforts that Harrigan secured his position as policeman at the lake and it was through Norris that he retained it as long as he did as Norris intervened in his behalf when Harrigan was about to be dismissed from the service.

Captain Dyer, in a statement to the Advocate said that the record of Mr. Norris during his connection with the Columbus secret service department was beyond criticism. He said that he was not addicted to the intemperate use of liquor and that his conduct was above reproach in the many years that he had been in the service.

Mr. Norris has been subjected to a great deal of unpleasant notoriety as a result of the action of a man who was irresponsible and it was his hope that the case would be tried so that he would be amply vindicated.

Several Columbus newspapers sent special representatives here to report the case and the entire party was sorely disappointed to have it dismissed without giving the defendant an opportunity to prove his innocence publicly.

Gray hair is a mark of age and nothing can be said as to its beauty will affect the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. It also stops the hair from falling out and makes it beautiful.

STICK UP MAN CAPTURED HERE BY OFFICIALS

Harvey Green, aged 21 years, a recent arrival in Newark, had his residence in the city cut short when Chief of Police E. D. Shaw, of Confluence, Pa., arrested him at 79 Gay street on a charge of robbery.

According to the statement of Shaw Green, at the point of a gun, held up and robbed a Greek fruit store at Confluence several weeks ago and got $111 from the cash register. He made good his escape and was traced to Newark.

Chief Hindel of the local police department rendered valuable assistance to the officer from Pennsylvania in locating his man and enabled Shaw to make a successful capture and a hurried get away in order to dodge any legal complications in the form of a habeas corpus proceeding.

Green was a life long resident of Confluence and it is said that he had been in trouble before.

Coronation a Scene of More Than Medieval Splendor

THOSE in charge of arrangements for the coronation of King George V. of England and Queen Mary, his wife, have made the event one of more than medieval splendor. The ceremonies in the famous Westminster abbey, where lie buried many of the greatest of England's poets, soldiers and statesmen, are presided over by the archbishop of Canterbury, chief prelate of the Church of England, assisted by many archbishops and bishops. Persons of royal rank from various nations are among the official guests. All foreign governments are represented officially. The British colonies figure prominently with civil and military representatives. Thousands of wealthy persons from the United States, who, it has been estimated, will spend $25,000,000 in London during the fortnight of the coronation festivities, are on hand, some of them having achieved the coveted privilege of seats in Westminster abbey for the coronation ceremonies.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Willie's Bright Idea Saved His Employer $40

YOU have been showing such remarkable smartness in your business deals, Jack," said daddy one evening, "especially in the bargain with old Dinah about the cookies, that I shall have to tell you about a little office boy whose brain saved his employer about $40 in stamps and who received a proper reward."

"That sounds fine, daddy," said Jack. "Please tell us every word about it, won't you?"

"Well," began daddy, "this boy, whose name is Will, is employed by a real estate firm in a big city, and this firm sends out advertisements by the thousands, mainly to small towns where the folks go to the postoffice to get their mail."

"Will had just started in on a big pile of envelopes and of two cent stamps when the bright idea struck him. He went at once to his employer and said: 'May I speak to you a few moments, Mr. Smith? I think I can save you some money.'"

"That's the boy," said Mr. Smith. "Come right in and tell me about it."

"I notice that 218 of these letters go to Glenside," said Will. "With a two cent stamp on each that costs $4.36. Now, if I put on one cent stamps that would be $2.18, and I could take the bundle out on the trolley and mail them there and get back in two hours at a cost of 20 cents."

"How much would that save?" asked daddy quickly.

"One dollar and ninety-eight cents," answered Jack and Evelyn almost in a breath.

"Good," said daddy. "There's nothing the matter with the way your teacher keeps you up in mental arithmetic."

"Well, Mr. Smith saw the sense of the thing at once and sent Willie away not only to Glenside, but to a dozen other towns and made a saving in a week of nearly $40."

"So on Saturday Will got a whole day off, two tickets to the ball game and a dollar bill to spend."

"I wonder if he took his sister," remarked Evelyn.

"I'm sure he did," said daddy. "Didn't I tell you he reminded me of Jack?"

"Well, didn't Will get promoted?" asked Jack.

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores.

Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

What's worse than gittin' a circumlocution when you're expectin' money from home?

A POPULAR ERROR

THAT RHEUMATISM IS DUE TO COLD, WET WEATHER.

The Trouble is Rooted in the Blood and Must Be Fought There, Not on the Surface.

Many people believe that the twinges and tortures of rheumatism are due to cold, damp, or wet weather, and treat themselves by rubbing with liniments. This is a serious mistake, and one which allows the disease to progress to such an extent that it is often difficult to get it out of the system. Rheumatism is a disease of the blood and can be cured only by driving the rheumatic poison out of the blood. There is no medicine that will do this so speedily and surely as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They actually make the new, rich, red blood, which drives out the poison, builds up the system, and makes the sufferer well and strong.

Miss Mary L. Stanley, whose address is R. F. D. No. 4, Batavia, N. Y., tried various treatments for muscular rheumatism but without relief until she took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I suffered from inflammatory rheumatism for over a year and when it first came on I paid but little attention to it, as I thought the occasional numb feeling was due to my knitting so much. In the winter I took cold and the pains became rapidly worse. They were entirely in my arms and shoulders and were so bad at night that I could neither sleep nor rest. Whenever I tried to raise my arm it hurt so that I could not move it far from my body and my hand would tremble as though I had palsy. My fingers were so swollen and stiff at the joints that I could not close them. Our doctor prescribed for me for several weeks with poultices and blisters over the shoulders, but I felt no relief and gave him up for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Very soon I felt better and after taking a few boxes was entirely cured. Since that time I have never had the slightest return of the rheumatism."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are also highly recommended for anemia, after-effects of the grip, stomach trouble and all general run-down conditions because of their power to make new, rich blood. If you are interested in the remedy that cured Miss Stanley, write today for a copy of the new edition of our book on "Diseases of the Blood." It contains information that may save you money and suffering. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Delicate Generosity.

One of the many stories of Grant which grip the hearts and minds of the people was once told by General Simon B. Buckner at a meeting of Confederate veterans.

"Grant and I were chums at West Point," began General Buckner. "I had befriended him at one time, and he can justly be said of him that he never forgot a kindness. After the Union victories at Henry and Donelson I met Grant on the boat at the surrender, and he followed me when I went to headquarters. He left the officers of his own army and followed me with that modest manner peculiar to him into the shadow and there tendered me his purse—pressed it into my hand without a word.

"It seemed to me," concluded General Buckner, "that in the marvelous modesty of his nature he was afraid the light would witness that act of generosity and sought to hide it from the world, almost from his own soul."

The music of "The Lost Chord" was composed under most touching conditions. Arthur Sullivan was watching by the bed of his dying brother, Frederick. One night shortly before death the invalid sank into a peaceful slumber. Arthur, who attended his brother day and night, took the opportunity to read, and it happened that his eyes fell on Adelaide Anne Procter's poem, "The Lost Chord." The verses impressed him greatly, and music appropriate to them suggested itself to his mind. Taking a sheet of music paper, he began to write, and so absorbed was he in his task that he sat hour after hour working at it until the song was completed. Probably the acute emotional conditions under which the music was composed account largely for the power to touch the emotions which undoubtedly "The Lost Chord" possesses.—George Leon Varney in National Magazine.

A Go as You Please Railway.

The Quest-Etat railway is a standing joke in Paris on account of its slipshod ways. They tell there this story of an incident which happened when M. Briand was premier:

A Russian prince was in Brittany and wanted to come up to Paris. He telegraphed to his secretary: "Shall arrive Invalides tomorrow 8 a. m. Don't want accident to train. See Briand about it." The secretary called on the prime minister, who was most affable. "It is not the general custom on the Quest-Etat to avoid accidents," he said, "but I will ask the director to see what can be done." The express arrived safely without the smallest mishap, but six hours and a half late, during all which time the Russian prince's secretary had been waiting on the platform.

Some people never go ahead because they wait too long to make sure they are right.

CASE AGAINST GEORGE NORRIS WAS DISMISSED

Prosecuting Witness Fails to Appear—Friends Vouch For Excellent Record of Columbus Man.

The charge against George Norris of the Columbus Detective department, was dismissed by Judge Seward Tuesday morning because of the failure of the prosecuting witness to appear at the hour set for trial.

J. P. Harrigan, the prosecuting witness, who filed the affidavit against Norris, has not been seen in the city for several days, since in fact an affidavit of lunacy was filed against him.

With Mr. Norris, when he appeared for trial was Captain O. H. Dyer of the secret service department of Columbus, and Will D. Harris, manager of Buckeye Lake Park, and numerous other witnesses who were to have testified in behalf of Mr. Norris.

Regarding the charge, Mr. Harris stated to the Advocate that it was ridiculous in the extreme as every minute of Norris' time could be accounted for during the time he is alleged to have sold the liquor.

At the hour Harrigan says the sale took place, Norris was with Mr. Harris and had been for several hours and spent most of the evening with him.

Mr. Norris stated that the report which was given considerable publicity that he had trouble with Harrigan and engaged in a fight with him was false. He said that it was through his efforts that Harrigan secured his position as policeman at the lake and it was through Norris that he retained it as long as he did as Norris interceded in his behalf when Harrigan was about to be dismissed from the service.

Captain Dyer, in a statement to the Advocate said that the record of Mr. Norris during his connection with the Columbus secret service department was beyond criticism. He said that he was not addicted to the immoderate use of liquor and that his conduct was above reproach in the many years that he had been in the service.

Mr. Norris has been subjected to a great deal of unpleasant notoriety as a result of the action of a man who was irresponsible and it was his hope that the case would be tried so that he would be amply vindicated.

Several Columbus newspapers sent special representatives here to report the case and the entire party was sorely disappointed to have it dismissed without giving the defendant an opportunity to prove his innocence publicly.

SALVATION ARMY CAMP MEETING AT BUCKEYE LAKE

Announcement is made by Salvation Army officials that the organization has completed arrangements and will hold a great camp meeting at Summerland near Millersport on Buckeye Lake. Colonel William Evans, provincial officer of the Ohio and Southern Province with headquarters at Cleveland, will have charge of the exercises. Camp will commence on Monday, July 3 and will continue until July 10. Three public services will be held daily which will include many services of unique character. The program arranged is of a varied and interesting character that will touch nearly every phase of Salvation Army work. The officers who are announced to take part in these services will come from the seventy mission stations which are scattered throughout Ohio, West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Tennessee. These men and women have spent many years in this interesting line of work and they have rich and wide experiences and there is every indication that the camp will prove a spiritual as well as intellectual feast.

The Del Fisher Boat line is arranging to take care of all who wish to visit the Army Camp, and will maintain a special schedule from Buckeye Lake Park to Summerland Beach.

STICK UP MAN CAPTURED HERE BY OFFICIALS

Harvey Greer, aged 21 years, a recent arrival in Newark, had his residence in the city cut short when Chief of Police E. D. Shaw, of Confluence, Pa., arrested him at 79 Gay street on a charge of robbery.

According to the statement of Shaw, Greer, at the point of a gun, held up and robbed a Greek Fruit store at Confluence several weeks ago and got $111 from the cash register. He made good his escape and was traced to Newark.

Chief Hindel of the local police department rendered valuable assistance to the officer from Pennsylvania in locating his man and enabled Shaw to make a successful capture and a hurried get away in order to dodge any legal complications in the form of a habeas corpus proceeding.

Greer was a life long resident of Confluence and it is said that he had been in trouble before.

Coronation a Scene of More Than Medieval Splendor

THOSE in charge of arrangements for the coronation of King George V. of England and Queen Mary, his wife, have made the event one of more than medieval splendor. The ceremonies in the famous Westminster abbey, where lie buried many of the greatest of England's poets, soldiers and statesmen, are presided over by the archbishop of Canterbury, chief prelate of the Church of England, assisted by many archbishops and bishops. Persons of royal rank from various nations are among the official guests. All foreign governments are represented officially. The British colonies figure prominently with civil and military representatives. Thousands of wealthy persons from the United States, who, it has been estimated, will spend $25,000,000 in London during the fortnight of the coronation festivities, are on hand, some of them having achieved the coveted privilege of seats in Westminster abbey for the coronation ceremonies.

THE SCIENCE OF FARMING

Conservation Through Domestic Science

MUCH has been said during the past five years on the conservation of our natural resources. These discussions have dealt chiefly with the phases which have to do with mines, forests and water powers. We have been told how to preserve our forests, how to prevent private concerns from monopolizing our mineral lands, and how to retain our water power sites so that the public will get some benefit from them. Statesmen and politicians, big and little, have vied with each other in proclaiming methods of procedure.

At the same time we have been told how to conserve our soil and how to produce larger crops. We have been taught how to make twenty inches of rainfall do the work of thirty. We are learning to grow four ears of corn where we formerly grew two. Little has been said, however, on the subject of conserving our crops after they have been produced. Agriculturists are teaching us to feed our crops in more suitable rations, and to better animals. Thus nutrition studies in animal husbandry have given us feeding standards, and experience has taught us that 600 bushels of grain fed to well-bred stock will produce more milk, beef or pork than 500 bushels fed to scrub stock. But feeding animals is only a step in the preparation of food for man.

In the final preparation little has been said. We seldom hear of how nine pounds of flour can be made to take the place of ten or how to get the most out of meats. Atwater of the United States Department of Agriculture, in Farmers' Bulletin, states on the question of waste of foods: "More food is eaten than can be properly utilized by the body; more food is served than can be eaten." Again, he says: "In dietary studies conducted in a students' club in an eastern

HARROW AS YOU PLOW

FARMERS have come to learn that the only way to prepare the soil is to let the harrow follow the plow as closely as possible. In common practice the good farmer plows only so much during the early part of the day as he can harrow before quitting time at night.

Gasoline Engine for the Farm

THE gasoline engine is so securely established in popular favor, it has become such an essential part of the equipment of the modern farm, that the question presented to the dealer is no longer whether he shall handle an engine or not, but what engine shall he handle, says the Implement Age. Not so very long ago manufacturers of engines found no little difficulty in inducing dealers to accept a gasoline engine agency. This was due largely to the fact that few dealers knew anything about either the theory or the practice of internal combustion.

Another reason for their difference was to be found in the doubt existing in the minds of farmers as to whether the gasoline engine was the best source of power for farm application. Of the two, the farmer was enlightened the earlier. This was brought about by the efforts put forth by manufacturers to educate and to develop a demand. Largely this was done directly. The disinclination of the dealer to assume an agency responsibility forced the manufacturer to go direct, with the result that the farmer was clamoring for the means of applying this new source of power before the dealer was ready to supply it.

The gasoline engine, in its many adaptations from automobile to tractor, and from small stationary users to large sources of power, is the future power upon the farm. That dealer who will make the closest and most comprehensive study of the needs of his neighborhood, and who will select his engine line to meet these conditions, and who succeeds in approximating most nearly to the right in both instances, will be most likely to build a permanent and profitable trade.

The value of a gasoline engine depends entirely upon the amount of work it will do. A cheap engine with the equipment to run the pump, cream separator, washing machine, churn, etc., is worth more to the farmer than a high-grade engine without the equipment to do this work.

It is estimated that the farmer required power to operate the different machines he has to use as follows:

Machinery	Days
The cream separator one-half hour morning and night, $65 hours per year, or.....	$6 1/2
The pump one hour per day.....	$6 1/2
Washing machine three hours per week.....	15.6
Churn three hours per week.....	15.6
Wood saw.....	2
Fanning mill.....	2
Total amount of work in year.....	108.2

These figures show that an equipment that enables him to run the cream separator with his engine adds 50 per cent to the value of the engine to him.

While a governor pulley may be placed on the engine shaft, belting direct from the same to the ten or twelve-inch pulley on the crank shaft of the cream separator, it is better to use it on a line shaft or counter-shaft, as by doing so the vibration of the engine that will affect the work of the separator when belting direct from engine to separator is entirely done away with.

The cream separator should be started slowly and gradually drawn up to the required speed where it should be run. The steadier it is run the better work it will do. To do this it is necessary to use a governor pulley between the engine and separator. A cream separator run with a gas engine in this way is run more evenly than can be done by hand. As few farmers need the exercise of turning their separators by hand, they want to use their gas engines for this work, and the dealer who is posted on just what the farmer's requirements are, and is prepared to advise his customer wisely on how to connect up to the different machines that he wants to run, will have a great advantage in selling engines over the dealer who is unfamiliar with the equipment needed.

PREFER BETTER CARPETS

INGRAIN carpets are no longer good enough for the average American household. Only rugs and heavy Wiltons and Brussels carpets will now do. The rapid growth of luxury in this direction is rather strikingly shown in the census statistics of the carpet and rug manufacture just published, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican remarks. Thus the production of three-ply Ingrain carpeting decreased from 3,223,000 square yards in 1899 to 2,358,000 yards in 1909, and the output of two-ply Ingrain carpeting fell from 26,698,000 square yards to 20,869,000. In the same time production of Axminster and moquette carpeting increased from about 5,000,000 square yards to 7,470,000; of Brussels from 2,685,000 to 3,352,000; of tapestry Brussels from 7,737,000 to 12,831,000, and of Wilton, Wilton velvet and tapestry velvet from 7,867,000 to 9,853,000 square yards. But this only tells a small part of the story. The country is preferring rugs even to fine carpets. About as much floor space is now carpeted over as in 1899, and with finer carpets. But the amount of additional floor space given to rugs in the last ten years is evidently enormous. Thus the country's production of Axminster and moquette rugs, woven whole, is increased from 328,000 square yards in 1899 to 4,241,000 in 1909; of Wilton rugs from 340,000 square yards to 2,340,000; of tapestry Brussels from 19,000 to 5,812,000, while the production of Brussels and tapestry velvet rugs, too small to appear in the census of 1899, was 1,353,000 and 3,997,000 square yards, respectively, in 1909. Here again, therefore, we are forced to raise the question, not of the high cost of living, but of the cost of high living.

BLUEBERRY CULTURE

BULLETIN 193 of the bureau of plant industry, just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, suggests the possibility of using the naturally acid lands that occupy extensive areas in the eastern United States to produce blueberries.

The department has found by experiment how blueberries differ from ordinary plants in their methods of nutrition and in their soil requirements and by means of this knowledge it has worked out a system of pit culture under which these plants attain a development beyond all previous expectations. The failure heretofore of attempts to cultivate blueberries commercially as a market appears to be due to a misunderstanding of the soil requirements of the plants.

It is believed that people would gladly pay a higher price for cultivated blueberries of superior quality. A marked distinction should be made in market quotations between the large pump blueberry (genus Vaccinium), whose seeds are so small as to be almost unnoticed when the berries are eaten, and the huckleberry (genus Gaylussacia), in which the seed is surrounded by a bony covering like a minute pit, which crackles between the teeth. The failure to make this distinction in nomenclature and the unsightly condition in which careless handling often presents the berries to the buyer are the cause of much of the failure of southern markets to appreciate the blueberry at its real value.

As the blueberry withstands the rough treatment incident to shipment much better than most other berries with proper handling it should always reach the market in first-class condition, whether shipped from North Carolina to Boston in early June or Nova Scotia to Washington in late September, making the blueberry season cover a period of nearly four months.

To those desiring to experiment with field culture of the swamp blueberry, whether with wild plants, seedlings or plants grown from cuttings, two methods of treatment are suggested, both deduced from the experiments already made. The first method, suited to upland soils, is to set the plants in trenches or separate holes in well-rotted peat at least a foot in depth, and mulch the surface well either with leaves or with clean sand.

The excavations should provide ample space for new growth of the roots, and the peat used may be either of the bog or upland type and should have been rotted for several months before using. The soil should

THE SOY BEAN

THE soy bean, also called the "soja bean," is a native of southeastern Asia, and has been extensively cultivated in Japan, China and India since ancient times. The beans are there grown almost entirely for human food. Their flavor, however, does not commend them to Caucasian appetites. As a forage crop, however, soy beans have become of increasing importance in parts of the United States, especially southward. They have been tested at most of the agricultural experiment stations, and it is clear that their region of maximum importance will be south of the red clover area and in sections where alfalfa cannot be grown successfully. They thus compete principally with cow peas, but as cultivation is usually required, they fill a somewhat different agricultural need. Their culture has greatly increased in recent years, especially in Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky and the southern part of Illinois and Indiana. It seems certain that the crop will become one of great importance in the regions mentioned, and probably over a much wider area. The earlier varieties mature even in Minnesota, Ontario and Massachusetts.

The soy bean is especially adapted to the cotton belt and northward into the southern part of the corn belt, but frequently do not make a sufficient yield to warrant growing them. Farther south, where the later and larger varieties can be grown, the yield is sufficient to make their extensive cultivation very profitable. Generally speaking, the soy bean requires about the same temperature as corn. It is perhaps even better adapted to a warm climate and does not do well in a cool climate.

The soil requirements of soy beans are much the same as those of corn. They will make a satisfactory growth on poorer soil than corn, provided inoculation is present, but will not make nearly as good a growth on poor soil as cow peas. Soy beans make their best development on fairly fertile loams or clays. The Mammoth variety also succeeds well on sandy soils. On rich soils all varieties are apt to make a large plant growth and a comparatively small yield of seed, and on the poorer soils a small plant growth, with a relatively large seed yield.

Soy beans do not require a well drained soil for their best development, although they will not grow in a soil where water stands for any considerable length of time. However, they are able to withstand a greater amount of moisture than either corn or cow peas.

Soy beans are also decidedly drought resistant, much more so than cow peas, and but for the depredations of rabbits would be a valuable crop in the semi-arid west. Rabbits are exceedingly fond of the foliage and where they are numerous it is nearly useless to plant soy beans unless the field can be inclosed with rabbit-proof fencing.

The matter of variety is of special importance in soy beans, as many growers have been sorely disappointed in getting a small early variety when they desired a larger and later sort.—By Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

THE WAY TO EAT

SUPPOSE your husband brings someone home to dinner without saying a word to you about it in advance, and it just chances that your maid, if you have one, has gone out for the day; what would you do about it?

This is one of the important subjects treated in an interesting little book just issued by the department of domestic science in the Kansas State Agricultural college. But the book discusses other equally vital questions, the Kansas Industrialist remarks. It has explicit directions for the young men who are now taking their first scientific instruction in table manners. These directions, prepared by Mrs. Mary Pierce Van Zile, the dean of women, are clear and sensible. A chapter on "Things to Be Remembered" should be particularly valuable, because it contains the "tips" about the actions and general conduct of men and women in eating that cannot fail to make life in the dining room pleasanter and less exciting.

Spread the napkin upon the knees with one fold. Don't try to wrap yourself in it and don't put it in your collar. The book doesn't say this in so many words, but this is because the author is considerate of other personal frailties. It does say, however, that only the lips should be wiped with the napkin, and in another paragraph, that in unfolding it one should not wave it about the head, or words to that effect.

In using the knife and fork, hold them by the handles, not by the blade or tines. Do not gesticulate with these articles.

Do not talk while your mouth is full. No one can understand you anyway, and it is proof of ill-breeding.

Take your time when you eat. Even in a railway station you usually have twenty minutes, and that is time enough for anyone.

Watch the hostess when you are in doubt and do as she does, unless she, too, is in the dark, in which case just eat.

CHOOSE BULLET DEATH

WHY do condemned murderers choose shooting in preference to hanging? Since the state of Utah passed a law giving convicts this choice, Arthur Pratt, warden of the Utah state prison, has not had one who would go to the gallows. On one occasion a murderer refused to make a choice and the judge sentenced him to be hanged.

Warden Pratt has been touring California with Governor William Stry and party of Utah, says the San Diego Union. Pratt was warden of the Utah penitentiary when it was a government prison, twenty-two years ago. Eight years ago he was appointed warden and since that time has made it one of the model prisons of the country.

The recent legislature authorized the employment of convict labor on state highways. As a result of this Utah will build a road from the state line of Idaho to the boundary of Arizona, a distance of 500 miles. As an experiment 100 convicts will first be worked on this improvement. As an inducement they will receive a bonus of practically one day off their sentence for each day's labor performed. Warden Pratt hopes for the success of this experiment.

"Utah has a law which allows a condemned murderer to choose either hanging or shooting as a mode of dying," said Warden Pratt. "This work is done by the sheriffs of each county, but in the penitentiary yard. So far we have not had a man who has chosen hanging. Once a murderer refused to make a choice and the judge sentenced him to be hanged. Shooting is the more humane. It is painless and instantaneous. The condemned man is led to the prison yard, seated on a chair, and if he desires is blindfolded. Five men armed with rifles are then marched to within ten paces of the man. Four of the rifles contain ball cartridges. The fifth has a blank shell. A target is pinned over the heart of the condemned man, all five guards take careful aim, and at a signal the volley is fired. The ordeal is over in a few moments, whereas hanging the suspense and suffering last for many minutes."

CULTURE OF TREES

THE first year is probably the most trying time for the young tree. It is at this period that it requires plenty of moisture and good vigorous growth. Any shock or check to growth invites disease and innumerable troubles. All cultivation in the young orchard must be directed toward the production of a healthy, vigorous and well-grown tree. Neglect and sod will not keep the young tree growing at its best. The grower should use judgment in handling his young orchard, for it is very easy under our western conditions to grow a tree too rapidly.

This is especially true in the irrigated sections. The evil effects of forcing the growth is noticed in large brittle limbs, which readily break under weight of fruit; in the absence of fruit spurs, and in the inability of the tree to produce fruit in proportion to its age. Only a study of the individual tree can determine the methods to use in handling a young orchard. Some growers make the mistake of allowing their trees to bear fruit while too young. If trees have a tendency to do this when they are 2 to 5 years old, judicious thinning must be practiced. A 2-year-old apple or pear tree should not be allowed to bear fruit, while an occasional specimen may be allowed to remain on the 3 or 4 year old tree. An abnormal growth is sometimes directly due to heavy pruning while the tree is dormant, but in some cases it may be a combination of conditions, such as excessive watering, cultivating and fertilization.—By W. H. Wicks, Horticulturist, University Experiment Station, Idaho.

TREATMENT OF ROSES

THE general idea is that roses don't need any treatment in summer, except to cut the rose blooms as needed, or let them bud and bloom and fall, so far contributing their share to our pleasureable enjoyment; yes, and, of course, weed round them sometimes, and if it should be very dry, give them a little water, and if they are ever-bloomers, expect them to just go on blooming. Don't the catalogues say, when new ones are introduced, they will bloom continuously? Why do people generally form and hold such ideas? Because they have never taken the trouble to study the rose. They love roses and deservedly give them the first place, but they don't know anything about them beyond admiring their beauty and enjoying their fragrance. While the family of roses was represented by and confined to those that bloomed only once a year, it did not matter so long as they were pruned in winter, in the south, and in early spring in the north, but it is different with the monthlies, or so-called ever-bloomers. The question naturally is, "Why do you prune roses?" To take out all dead and worn-out wood, also such blind shoots as are not needed for shaping or foliage purposes; also to shorten such stems or laterals as have bloomed and have from six to twelve, or even twenty, undeveloped buds, as the sap rushes to the extreme ends of these sprays or stems, leaving the lower buds undeveloped and giving the bush a straggling appearance.

The roses of which I am writing have all their blooms on new wood; that is, wood of each new growth. It will be seen, then, that if these stems or laterals are left to themselves they will have a series of new growths at each extreme end, leaving the bush unshapely and compelling the sap to travel a long distance for no good purpose. As there are some of the hybrid perpetuals and hybrid teas that have their blooms only on the ends of long sprays, let them so bloom before being cut back.

In answering why these roses should be cut back or pruned every time they bloom, be it monthly or longer, I think I have at once taught how to prune, and if this were properly attended to, there would be scarcely any winter pruning needed. I had perhaps better say that there is one branch of the rose family that should not be pruned in this way; that is the Austrian Briar, of which the old yellow Harrison Yellow and Persian Yellow are the only ones known among us here. These bloom only once a year and have their blooms on the year-old wood, so you see pruning as previously mentioned would cut all the bloom wood away. Best let them alone, except to take out dead or worn-out wood, and thin out a little, if so needed.

Roses grown for cut-flower purposes require special treatment, but I am not writing to give information about cut-flower roses. I am very desirous that our people should learn how to treat roses, especially our lady friends, who generally have most to do in rose cultivation for the home. Some of these prunings can be used for making young roses.—By William Lomas.

MULE RAISING

MULES, much abused and neglected animals, are not generally understood by farmers. A mule in the first place must be of good stock, not an offspring of some scrubby mare, but a mare with good breeding qualities. A mule of the mammoth stock is supposed to be the best mule under all conditions. Mules are cheaper than colts, for the service fee is not generally as high. Many people make a mistake in working the mare too soon after foaling. Never work a mare under ten days; then she can do light work, but the mule must be left in the barn. When the mare is brought in from work never allow the mule to suck as long as the mare is warm. After a mule is 2 or 3 weeks old turn it out in a lot away from the mare, especially at night, for a mule is very hard on a mare, much more so than colts. When the mule is about 2 months old he may be allowed to eat a few oats, about a pint in the beginning. Increase as he grows older, or the same amount of bran along with a little hay; alfalfa is preferred. At the age of 5 months a mule should be weaned, not gradually, but all at once. Take it away from the mare and never let it suck afterward. He should be put by himself or tied up. At this time you can give an ear of corn at a meal and a small amount of hay. The mule should be turned out in fair weather and not left to stand in the stable.

DISCOVERED BURNING TIES ALONG TRACK

Early Riser at Granville Battles the Flames—News of a Hustling Bustling Little City.

Granville, June 20.—While walking along Broadway at an early hour this morning, before any one else was on the street, Mr. Samuel Jackson, a well known colored man of the village, discovered a large pile of new ties belonging to the Ohio Electric road that had been piled up alongside the track, burning. The fire had gained considerable headway, and was fast eating its way among the ties. Mr. Jackson immediately attacked the fire and in a short time succeeded in extinguishing it. At first he was of the opinion that the fire had been caused by the bursting of one of the lamps that are placed along the tracks each night, but investigation showed that there was no lamp in the vicinity. The ties evidently had been set on fire. An effort will be made to apprehend the guilty party.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright of Indianapolis, Ind., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wright, at their home on Broadway. Mr. Wright is the special representative for the Metzgar Motor Car company of Detroit, Mich.

Your correspondent in talk with a number of the students of the High school and college, learned that some of the boys are very anxious to get to work and that they are thinking of giving up their school work. The jangling of the pocket money enjoyed by older fellows looks manly and grand to some of these youngsters. To get a dollar or two a day at some inferior job, to have some spending money to treat the girls, and to go on junkets, without asking dad for financial help—that seems ambition enough. And yet how many fellows have utterly spoiled their future by throwing away the dollars of tomorrow for the pennies of today. Every boy needs, not necessarily a classical high school or college course, but an amount of work, either in a literary or technical school. The fellow who lacks it occasionally gets ahead owing to some possession of exceptional gifts. In nine cases out of ten he is so crude and awkward mentally that he remains a plodder, a dith digger and man of all work all his life. Don't give up the school, boys.

Dexter Tight has gone to Bowling Green where he will act as representative for a book company.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Benner of Chicago Junction, O., who have been visiting relatives and friends here for some days, have returned home, after having had a most delightful visit.

The recent showers are doing wonders for the grass and growing crops.

Miss Carrie Wilson of Smithfield, Pa., who has been visiting relatives and friends here for a few days, has returned home.

Many plows are now in the cornfields tearing up the ground that bade defiance to them a week ago. The rains of last Saturday and Sunday were surely the right thing in the right place, but all cannot agree that they came just exactly in the right time. Vim and vigor again reign in the agricultural world, as the workers see some prospect of reaping some fruits as the result of their labors. Those who have kept right on at their work and done all that man could do, will now reap the first fruits of their reward in the delight of just watching things grow.

Not in many years have cherries been as plentiful in this vicinity as they are this season. Not only is the crop immense, but the quality is superior to that of many preceding years and prices are considerably less. Cherry pickers in some cases are receiving as compensation for their services one-half of what they gather. In other instances they get a cash payment. But in either they are declared to be making quite handsome wages. One old fruiter said: "It is the best year for cherries I have ever known." This is cheering, in view of the fact that the oldest inhabitant destroyed all the fruit with a severe frost in the latter part of April.

The funeral services over the remains of the late David G. Davis were held from the late home of the deceased on Linden Drive Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and were attended by quite a number of the relatives and friends of the deceased. The interment was made in Maple Grove cemetery.

Rev. E. E. Haskins has moved his family to Summerland Beach for the summer.

Mr. William Ackley has been quite sick at his home on West Broadway for some days. He is reported as being somewhat improved at this writing.

Miss Mary Kingley of Tiffin, Ohio, after a short but pleasant visit with relatives and friends in the village, has returned home.

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try it Free

Simple way for any family to retain the good health of all its members

The editors of "Health Hints" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer. That is "How can I cure my constipation?"

Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels, has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the best claim to attention from constipated people.

Its success in the cure of stubborn constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, waters, strong cathartics and such things. Syrup Pepsin, by training the stomach and bowels muscles to again do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting cure. Among its strongest supporters are Mr. John Graveline of 98 Milwaukee Ave., Detroit, Mich., Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City and thousands of others. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

FLOODS

ARE SWEEPING DOWN THE LOWLANDS OF PATOKA RIVER CAUSED BY CLOUDBURST.

Great Damage Done to Oil Fields and Much Stock Has Been Drowned.

Oakland City, Ind., June 20. The worst flood in the history of this section is sweeping down the Patoka river lowlands. A cloudburst is the cause. The crest of the flood was two feet high, taking fences, trees and buildings before it.

In the oil fields tanks and tank houses were carried away, and pumping powers, never flooded before, are under two feet of water. Much stock was drowned and several people had narrow escapes.

Asa Anderson, 80 years old, was rescued from his home after water had driven him to the roof. George Kemper, attempting to drive sheep from the bottom, came near being caught by the flood.

Property losses will reach an enormous figure. The E. and I. railroad has been tied up on account of washouts. On the Southern railway the water was up to the tracks, but traffic was continued.

MOTION FILED ASKING FOR A VENUE CHANGE

Attorneys for Thomas Valentine, Indicted in Lynching Case, Would Take Trial to Another County.

In the case of the State of Ohio against Thomas Valentine, indicted for murder in the first degree in connection with the lynching, counsel for the defendant submitted to the court a motion for a change of venue. Several affidavits were also submitted in support of the motion. The motion makes the allegation that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had by the defendant in Licking county. The affidavits recite that the affiants are acquainted with the sentiment existing in Licking county in reference to the cases growing out of the troubles of July 8, and in reference to the sentiment and feeling existing in Licking county, and do not believe that a fair and impartial trial could be had here.

The prosecution argued that the defendant can have a fair trial in Licking county as in any other; that the people generally would not treat the defendant, and that it was not believed that one hundred people could be found in Licking county that were acquainted with him and knew anything about him. The State also argued that the affiants did not recite any facts whereon to base the conclusion that a fair trial could not be had; that it is the duty of the court to try the case in Licking county if the court can do it, and that the true rule to determine that fact is to make an attempt to secure a jury. The court took the papers with him to Delaware and will advise Clerk Larason of his decision later.
